Many bright planets will be scattered over every part of the firmament-some appearing as their silver crescents like the new moon, some half-moons, and others with fully illuminated discs; some so distant as to be indistinguishable from stars, and others sursplendor, their orbits crossing and overthus circling in and out among each other as if in the mazes of some majestic dancesome winging their flight far away to the most distant parts of their orbits beyond the sun, and others perhaps approaching so near as to fill half the firmament with their glorious blaze, and travelling along for days and weeks together, so near that their gigantic inhabitants might almost clear, at a bold leap, the airy gulf that separates their worlds from one another .- R. Kalley Miller in his "Romance of Astronomy."

A ministerial crisis is reported to be hreatening in Austria as a consequence of the very excited feeling which prevails in regard to the establishment of a bank for Austro-Hungary. The people of Austria, under the apparent lead of the National Bank, are opposing the scheme most vigorously on the ground of its unduly favoring Hungary. But it is a part of the plan of Empire known as the "Austro-Hungarian compromise," and it is very positively stated that both Governments are determined to adhere to it, the Hungarian Government, it is declared, being unable to make further concession without risking its parliamentary majority.

The British Ambassador to Turkey, Sir Henry Elliot, has given an emphatic denial to a statement in the Times that he had advised the Porte to be ready to stand for its rights and to make demonstrations of force. The Porte, it is now stated, will move before the conference for an international arbitration to determine if Russia had the right to send volunteers to Servia, and thus prolong the war. If it shall be decided that she had not that right the Porte will claim a large indemnity.

LOCAL MATTERS. A KNIFE THURST IN A MAN'S EYE .- Tuesday night about 12 o'clock, near the corner of Seventeenth and Main street, Milton H. Minnick alias Mulligan, a white sailor belonging to the schooner R. H. Mitchell, brust his jack-knife into the right eye of saac Jackson (colored), inflicting a painful and serious wound. The two men met first in house at Cash-Corner, and Minnick amused himself by teasing Jackson. He finally took the latter's hat and went off with it followed by Jackson. Near the Old Market. Minnick called Jackson to come to him, and Jackson, supposing that his hat was to be delivered, went up, and Minnick then stabbed him in the eye with his jack-knife. Jackson cried "murder," and Minnick fled across the Seventeenth-Street bridge, but was subsequently arrested by Sergeants Howard and Wren. The wounded man himself withdrew the knife from the flesh, and was attended by Dr. Riddell; and after giving in his testimony before the Police Court yesterday morning was sent to the almshouse for treatment. Minnick was sent to the grand jury for indictment for assault with intent to kill.

POLICE COURT, YESTERDAY-Justice Joseph J. White presiding.—The following cases were disposed of:

Walter Wendt, a drunken vagrant, was ordered to leave the city. John Abbott, a resident of Manchester, was charged with stealing a hand-organ valued at $30. The case was continued until Saturday, and Abbott was bailed for his appearance. Alice Gray (colored) was sent to jail for within a belt of very moderate extent, it twenty-four hours for using obscene language in the street.

BAIL ALLOWED BUT NOT GIVEN .- James Burnett, a white youth of fourteen or fifteen, charged with entering an unoccupied house on west Grace street and stealing fixtures, was brought before Judge Wellford yesterday on a writ of habeas corpus on application for bail. Without hearing argument, Judge Wellford upon the testimony passing the moon itself in magnitude and decided that bail could be allowed, and he fixed it at $500. > PAYING OFF .- Deputy Sergeant Holzinger will spend Thanksgiving-day at his office, in the City Hall, to pay off the petit jurors for the November term of the Hustings Court. Walk up, gentlemen, and get your well-earned money.

CHECKS NOT CALLED FOR.—Quite a large number of the creditors of the Dollar Savings Bank to whom dividends are due have not called for the checks, which have been awaiting them for several weeks in the settlement between the two halves of the hands of the clerk of the United States District Court.

> GRAND CONCERT .- Mr. Wheat will give a grand concert with his excellent quartette choir at Association Hall next Tuesday week, 12th December, for the benefit of the Monumental church. It is needless to say that the concert will be as brilliant and enjoy able as all of his entertainments are; but with the superior vocalists he now has, particularly the soprano, Miss Swain, we may look forward to something surpassing what we have ever had before.

THE THEATRE LAST NIGHT .- "The Two Orphans" was presented at the Theatre ported, has entered a formal protest last night with a fine caste and excellent scenic arrangements. The play is a romantic one, and has been very popular in the northern cities. It was so well received here that the management feel justified in repeating it to-night. THANKSGIVING-DAY.

Some Account of Its Origin and

NEW ENGLAND INSTITUTION THAT IS SPREADING-PROCLAMATIONS ISSUED BY A DAY BECAUSE NOT AUTHORIZED TO INTERFERE IN RELIGIOUS MATTERS-A To-day is St. Andrew's-day, and Thanksgiving-day as well. The former, called as it is in honor of the patron saint of the Scotch, and the latter an annual religious festival which had its early home in New England, so far as this country is concerned, and is slowly spreading over the land, to some extent anticipating and usurping the glories ot the glad Christmas season. It was suggested by the Hebrew Feast of Tabernacies, or "Feast of Ingathering," at the end of the year.

The occasional observance of a day of remained there until 1620, when it sent off the May Flower colony to New England. After the first harvest of the colonists at Plymouth, in 1621, Governor Bradford sent four men out fowling that they might praying, and the Governor appointed a day colony, recommended a day of thanksgivcolonies, and invited the Governor of Plymouth colony to unite with him. There is of thanksgiving in Massachusetts Bay col-ony in 1633, 1634, 1637, 1638, and 1639 (sometimes more than one day in the year) and in Plymouth in 1651, 1660, 1668 (when the form of the recommendation indicates that it had become an annual custom), 1689 and 1690. The earlier of these appointments were at different seasons of the year, and for special reasons (particularly for the arrival of ships with provisions and new colonists); but the latter were more generally for the harvest, and were in the late autumn or early winter. Occasional thanksging-days were pointed by the Dutch Governors of New Netherlands in 1644, 1655, and 1664, and by the English Governors of New York in 1755 and 1760. During the Revolution thanksgiving-day was a national institution, being annually recommended by Congress; but after the general thanksgiving for peace in 1784 there was no national appointment until 1789, when President Washington, by undervalued by most of the establishment of a museum that will be request of Congress, recommended a day of Washington issued a second stitution. thanksgiving proclamation in 1795 on account of the suppression of insurrection.

President Madison, by request of Congress, recommended thanksgiving for peace in April, 1815. But the official recommendation of thanksgiving-day seems mainly to have been confined to New England, where regular annual proclamations were issued by the Governors of the States, and the day was observed almost universally with religious services, and was, says Appleton's Encyclopædia, "the principal social and home festival of the year."

The Prayer-Book of the Protestant Episcopal Church ratified in 1789 recommends for a day of thanksgiving the first Thursday in November, unless another day be appointed by the civil authorities. There was occasional recommendation by other religious bodies, and various local customs prevailed in different parts of the country, but the day was not regularly recommended by the Governor of New York until 1817, and its adoption in the southern States was much later. In 1855 Governor Johnson, of requested to do so, publicly declined because unauthorized to interfere in religious matters. In 1858 thanksgiving proclamations were issued by the Governors of eight of the southern States. Says the Encyclo-

"During the war President Lincoln issued proclamations recommending special thanksgiving for victory in 1862, 1863, and a national proclamation of the annual thanksgiving in 1863 and 1864." Those thanksgiving-days, however, were not for the southern country. We had our own. Since that time such a proclamation has been issued annually by the President, as well as by many of the Governors of the States and the Mayors of the principal cities; and custom has fixed the time for the last Thursday in November, which is to-day. It is happily arranged that Thanksgivingday comes at a season of the year when the markets are full of fine eatables, and when turkeys especially are in their prime. Though it will be long-may it be neverbefore Thanksgiving-day becomes a rival of Christmas in this latitude, there are many who observe it by visits to the sanctuaries. by prayers for the blessings of God, and particularly by splendid dinners, around which gather friends and family.

The post-office, custom-house, and United States offices will be closed to-day. The banks will also cease operations and observe the occasion, and there will be thanksgiving services at the Episcopal churches and at Clay-Street Methodist THANKSCIVING DINNER .- The ladies of St. James church and Moore Memorial chapel, who are conducting a fair in the Shafer building, will to-day, from 1:30 to 5:30 P. M., have a sumptuous thanksgiving dinner. CERTIFICATES FURNISHED.—The Secretary of the Commonwealth yesterday sent certificates of election to the candidates for Congress proved by the recent canvass to have been elected. CONVICT RECEIVED .- Joseph R. Edmondson, of Smythe county, was received at the penitentiary yesterday for two years for issault with intent to kill.

PAY YOUR TAXES .- To-day is the last day for the payment of State taxes before the extra per cent. is added. The office of the Collector will not be closed to-day.

Editors of the Dispatch: The notice in the Dispatch of Monday giving the account of Mr. McPherson's death by the cars was entirely incorrect. He had been taking a walk and was returning home after dark, orchestra would be appreciated by the and, not being acquainted with the tracks patrons of the Theatre. The Hustings Court .- An adjourned session of the Hustings Court will commence this morning at 10 o'clock. The following criminal cases will be called: Maria Giraud, assault with intent to kill; J. H. Waymack, unlawful shooting; Gwathmey Miles, William Stevens, and Cornelius Alfriend, petit larceny.

City Sergeant Fitzgerald yesterday summoned a special grand jury, consisting of Thomas H. Holt, John W. Powers, Edward SEASON OF FINE EATING AND SOME Vickers, H. C. Howlett, R. A. Baugh, B. B. Weisiger, W. L. Walker, Charles M. Wallace, James T. Clayton, and William T.

Council Meeting .- The ensning meeting of the City Council (Friday, December 1st,) will be an important one, as various interesting reports from various committees will be submitted, and it is probable that the vacancy from the Second Ward in the body will be filled, and members of the School Board from the First, Second, and Fourth wards appointed.

Decreasing the Force.—There was a further discharge of employes at the Westham Granite-Works yesterday, rendered necessary because the work is approaching completion and the appropriation nearly exhausted.

Conveyed to the Penitentiary .- City Sercant Fitzgerald yesterday conveyed to the penitentiary, under a sentence of three years, George W. Browder, convicted of house-breaking and larceny in the Hustings Court of this city. Browder is respectably connected and much sympathy is expressed for his widowed mother, sisters, and other Police Note.—Officer Fitzgerald yester-day arrested John Morris and Andrew Hagan and conveyed them to Richmond to answer for some breach of the peace alleged to have been by them committed Monday night. One or more parties charged with complicity in the affair are yet at large.

George C. Vanderslice to this charge by the Methodist Conference gives unqualified satisfaction. Manchester has never had a more earnest or zealous worker in the Master's vineyard, or one more in every way acceptable to all classes of our citizens. Catawba's Repetition .- Catawba has been ndisposed for several days past, which fact has given rise to the fear that he would be unable to be with us on Saturday night. He was so much better yesterday, however, that in the course of human events he will norate at the time mentioned. He will give a sketch entitled "Through the Suez Canal Down the Red Sea"; besides other special-Home Talent .- The Manchester Jubilee Singers, James R. Monroe chorister, are in active training, and will shortly give a number of entertainments for benevolent purposes. All of the members of this troupe are native and to the manor born."

Street Committee .- No business of public interest was transacted at the meeting of the Council Committee on Streets Tuesday night, and the proceedings will be made public at the next meeting of the City The Petersburg Shops .- The Examining Committee of the Petersburg Railroad Com-

being rapidly pushed ahead. City Taxes.—After to-day unpaid tax-bills will be placed in the hands of City Sergeant Fitzgerald for collection, with a penalty attached.
